By train (Antwerpen-Centraal)

Both international trains and inter-city trains stop in Antwerpen-Centraal and Antwerpen-Berchem stations. These stations are about 3 minutes from each other, Every hour, 15 IC, IR or L-trains stop from/to Antwerp. The Thalys train, which runs between Paris, Brussels and Amsterdam stops in Antwerpen-Berchem. Make sure you arrive in Antwerpen-Centraal. From there, it is a 15 min walk to the conference venue.

More information on trains can be found on: <http://www.b-rail.be>

By bus (Antwerp Rooseveltplaats)

Most busses stop at the Antwerp Rooseveltplaats in the city center, approximately 5 min from the conference venue.

By car

Coming to Antwerp by car is not recommended. Traffic in the city centre is congested, and there are some road works going on on the main axes to and through the city. Many streets in the area around the conference venue are narrow and one-way. Free parking is nearly non-existent, you can follow P-route signs to big public parking lots (the closest is “Meir – Universiteit”, parking Sint-Jacob, which is in the street of the conference venue (13.20 euro/day)).
